

Facing the Miracles and Complexities of Life with Matt Brown

Michele interviews Matt Brown, an author and senior pastor at Sandals Church in Riverside, California. They discuss Matt's upcoming book 'Every Day, A Miracle', which is due to be released in March. The conversation turns to Matt's personal experiences with God's miracles, addressing themes of emotional and spiritual healing, faith, and authenticity. Matt talks about the presence of God, even during times of suffering and struggle. They also discuss stories of abuse and survival with the host sharing her own story of abuse. The conversation further sheds light on the concept of prayer and God's answer, which can be 'yes', 'no' or 'wait'. This discussion holds an encouraging message of hope for the listeners.

The Power of Miracles and Redemption: A Conversation with Matt Brown

In this podcast episode, Matt Brown, author of 'Every Day, A Miracle', discusses his personal journey of faith and how he came to write his book. Brown clarifies that he was present at most of the miracles included in his book, which range from healings to spiritual transformations. He emphasizes that all prayers are answered, either with a 'yes', 'no', or 'wait'. Brown's nugget of wisdom is that God is always present and working, even if we don't see or feel it. The podcast host shares the traumatic experiences she faced as a child and how she found redemption, mirroring Brown's emphasis on hope and resilience in the face of adversity.
