

Reflecting on Season One: A Heartfelt Thank You and What's Next

In the season one finale of 'old school,' the Michele reflects on the journey of hosting the podcast, likening it to riding a roller coaster in a tornado. She express gratitude towards her guests and the audience for their engagement and support. Michele highlights episodes featuring guests like Bob Goff, Jessica Peck, Tracy Wells, Isabella Lafferty, and Jake Thomas, noting their impact and the value they brought to the podcast. Michele announced that season two will begin in June, with Kimberly Stuart, her writing coach, as the first guest. She also mentions forthcoming news about her first book, 'Butterfly Stitches,' and invites listeners to join the launch team. As season one concludes, Michele thanks everyone involved and looks forward to the future of the podcast.

In this season one finale episode of 'Old School', Michele reflects on their journey of starting the podcast and writing. She expresses gratitude towards the guests and listeners for their genuine engagement and feedback. Highlights include mentioning episodes that received the most views and engagement, such as the interviews with Bob Goff, Jessica Peck (Dr. Nurse Mama), Tracy Wells, Isabella Lafferty, and Jake Thomas. She encourages listeners to subscribe, rate, and review the podcast to help increase its reach and share a heartfelt thanks for the support throughout season one.

00:00 Welcome to the Season Finale: A Heartfelt Recap

00:25 The Roller Coaster Journey: Highlights and Challenges

00:40 Engagement and Feedback: Building a Community

01:18 Looking Forward: Season Two and Beyond

02:10 A Tribute to Top Guests and Episodes

05:42 Anticipation for Season Two: New Beginnings

06:31 Gratitude and Farewell: Closing the Season